

... your employees always handled themselves with professionalism and politeness... The workmanship of the building is wonderful. From the beginning to the completion of this project, Kindred Construction was very helpful and most willing to look at different ways to solve a dilemma —always willing to "go the extra mile".

The Architect's concept ... proved to be a technical challenge that Kindred was able to meet on time and on budget. Kindred's ability to work cooperatively with us throughout the construction phase, coupled with their thoroughness, was also greatly appreciated.

Marco Buccini, Director of Facilities Planning – FRASER HEALTH AUTHORITY

We had recommended...Kindred for the construction management of the project, based on the positive experience we had with them in...developing Bryan Adams' Warehouse Studio, their work on other studios and non-profit societies. We appreciated the construction management approach on this project due to the number of customizing changes the client required through the development process and site related revisions. We continue to rely on the experienced advice from Kindred Construction and look forward to working with them in the future.

Each project was completed on time and on budget, a rare joy in construction projects. The quality of work was top-of-the-line... Kindred's supervisors and subcontractors were professional in their conduct, responsive to our requests, helpful in suggesting possible changes to save time and money, and a delight to work with.

Bill Amundson – THE VANCOUVER FRIENDS FOR LIFE SOCIETY

...The project was completed in a timely manner, despite numerous delays due to unforeseen difficulties and very inclement weather. Your design and on-site management team were very responsive and creative in their handling of the problems encountered. The work was carefully planned and completed with an eye to containing costs. We were always well informed of the progress of the project... and the Kindred people on site were skilled and professional.
